

White Widow Auto

A trichome machine with an insane resin profile!

- Superiorly fast big producer. Ideal for those who want a quick harvest, expect 500gr/m² in 63 days.
- The plant, the legend. A superb choice since the '80s, earned her name due to the insane resin production.
- Impressively resistant. Can be grown in colder humid climates with ease but will thrive in hotter climates.
- Old-timers will love it. The classic white widow terpene profile that veterans adore.
- A refined and improved version. Expect a pleasant clear-minded and uplifting effect.

She is an old school legend, multiple world champion with an insane resin profile earning her the name. One of the original strains from the 1980s that still ranks as an excellent choice for beginner growers and those who want the very best old school in autoflowering form.

A fast-growing strain and superbly reliable, that will be done as quickly as 9 weeks from seed to harvest, making her the perfect candidate for growers who want a quick turnaround time. She will produce incredible results outdoors and can withstand hot and cold weather with ease. Her flavors are a mix of spicy, earthy, and floral tones, and her effects are relaxing and great for social scenarios. Hash makers and extractors will go wild for White WidowAuto, as she is a trichome machine that will cake buds in resin and cover fan leaves with resin rails.

Bud description

The first thing that stands out from Original Auto White Widows's buds, is the prolific resin content. Covered in trichomes from top to bottom, with a dark green hue and maroon brown pistils. The buds are light in weight, however have a large size meaning the flowers of this strain go a long way.

Smoke report

Thanks to her 20% THC, the effects are uplifting, clear-minded with an exciting buzz. She will fire the mind up and get all systems going, making her perfect for keeping organized and busy, keeping sharp and alert, and working through a to-do list. Her high is not too racy and will transcend into a relaxing state the more you smoke.

Plant Appearance

White Widow Auto will grow with even spacing between internodes and will produce one main cola. Her side branches will grow out and tall as she fills with silver coated, large-sized nuggets in 9 weeks where she has the capability to yield 400-500gr/m². Her leaf structure will be thin and long and she will not stretch too much once flowering begins, where she will mature to a size ranging from 70cm-110cm. She can also take on pink and magenta hues as she gets close to her harvest date, revealing her true beauty even further.

Grow Tips

A really easy to trim strain that is well known for its extreme resin profile. When trimming your plants, we advise you to collect all the leaf material to make hash or extracts with. She also performs incredibly well when grown in a Sea of Green and will not grow too tall. We recommend planting this hybrid outdoors until late in the year, as she can take colder and wet climates with ease, and during the hot summer months will really showcase her yield capabilities. Highly recommended to beginner growers new to autoflowering genetics that need a sturdy reliable strain that can be left to grow, with very little maintenance.

Flavor

A flavor that can be described as musky, spicy, earthy, and sweet. Smoking will reveal a bold taste of savory spices and dried fruits combined with earthy undertones. A particular taste that the old school generation will love.
