Our most infamous strain with the stickiest buds in the game. A knockout artist who boasts a staggering 24% THC. Very big and potent. The "glue" comes from so much resin, that your fingers will literally be stuck together while trimming. A large-sized plant that only needs around 9 weeks to reward growers with big enormous sticky fat buds, that any type of grower will fall in love with. Super easy to grow and her pine and diesel terp profile will impress even the most experienced cannabis connoisseur. She is well suited for beginner growers and hash makers should not miss out on this trichome queen.

Bud description

Gorilla Glue Auto's buds will be chunky and dense, with a heavy resin production that causes your fingers to stick together like super glue. The buds are dark green, with swollen pointy calyx that swell wrapped in bright orange hairs. A truly impressive amount of trichomes that would make excellent cup winning extracts hands down.

Smoke report

She is one for smokers with the highest tolerances and fans of powerful hybrids. Gorilla Glue Auto is extremely potent and her effects are not for the light-hearted. Not only will she glue you to the nearest armchair, your eyes and face will slowly feel the force of her physical effects while you enjoy a nice head high that will keep you deeply motivated and energized. Certainly a perfect choice for staying at home and lounging out with friends or relieving stress and pain while maintaining an uplifted spirit that allows you to continue with your day-to-day chores.

Plant Appearance

This lady likes to stay low and will usually grow to a height of 60-130cm, making her ideal for keeping out of sight. She does not require much maintenance and will reward you with massive yields of up to 450-600gr/m<sup>2</sup>. Her growth structure is short and bushy, thanks to her sativa dominance, and will grow one main central cola, with fat side branches all around. Once flowering starts, expect Gorilla Glue Auto to fill out thick and fast, as she begins to pack on size, weight and go crazy with the trichome output. From seed to harvest she is ready in 9-10 weeks, where she will finish with a short and fat appearance.

Grow Tips

Gorilla Glue Auto is a huge producer so it advised to add support around this strain, to help the side branches during the flowering stage. This lady is very resistant to plant disease and can withstand colder climates without suffering from mold or powdery mildew. She can take a big feed especially during week 3 and onwards. Tying her side branches down will increase the number of flowering sites and increase yields. This hybrid is able to withstand colder nighttime temperatures easily and will turn purple late into flowering. She reacts very well to pruning and will produce extra fat buds once flowering commences.

Flavor

A very refined piney citrus taste with a background of diesel and fuel. Her flavor becomes a mixture of gas and lemon that is emphasized even more on the exhale. Fans of Kush will soon have this strain in their top 3 when it comes to taste.
